

Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz (JGU) is one of the largest universities in Germany. Thanks to its location in the Rhine-Main science region, the university can unfold to its full potential and showcase its innovative power and dynamism. Its status as a comprehensive university allows for multidisciplinary learning and teaching and has great potential for internationally renowned, interdisciplinary research. Almost all of its institutes are located on a single campus close to the Mainz city center – creating a lively academic culture for researchers, teaching staff, and students from every continent.

The Institute of Ancient Studies at the Faculty of History and Cultural Studies, in cooperation with the Academy of Sciences and Literature | Mainz invites applications for the position of beginning on April 1, 2024.

Salary grade W 1 LBesG | Civil servant with a fixed-term contract

Tasks and expectations:

We are looking for a candidate who can represent the subject of Classical Archaeology in research and teaching, though the focus of their activities will concern collaboration in the academy-project disiecta membra. Stone Architecture and Urbanism in Roman Germany. In addition to a qualified doctorate, first excellent scientific qualifications must be proven.

The candidate's main focus should be on the field of ancient architecture, evidenced by their publication(s). Furthermore, the willingness to cooperate with the other partner institutions of the academy-project (<https://www.adw-mainz.de/en/projects/disiecta-membra-stone-architecture-and-urbanism-in-roman-germany/information.html>) and the diverse subjects in the Institute of Ancient Studies and beyond is indispensable. Furthermore, an openness to digital research and teaching with digital methods is expected, as well as a willingness to participate in academic self-administration.

Requirements:

- In addition to the general requirements according to public services law, applicants must meet the recruitment requirements stipulated in Section 54 of the University Act (Hochschulgesetz) of Rhineland-Palatinate.

The state of Rhineland-Palatinate and JGU are committed to the close personal mentoring of students and therefore expect teaching staff to have a strong presence at the university. Successful applicants should exhibit a cooperative, team-oriented and proactive work ethic, strong communication skills, and the willingness to assume responsibility – including further professional development in accordance with JGU's leadership guidelines.

Junior professors are appointed as civil servants for a period of six years. In the fourth year, the junior professor's performance level will be evaluated in order to provide orientation for the following three years.

What we have to offer:

JGU firmly supports making family and career compatible and promotes its employees' further professional development with an extensive range of human resources development opportunities.

JGU is diverse and welcomes qualified applications from people with varied backgrounds.

JGU aims to increase the number of women in research and teaching and therefore encourages female researchers to apply.

Candidates with severe disabilities and appropriate qualifications will be given priority.

Please apply via JGU's application portal, which you can reach under the following link: https://berufungsportal.uni-mainz.de/datenabfrage/Klassische\_Archaeologie

Using the portal, please submit your application documents, including CV, certificates and diplomas, a list of publications, and, if applicable, a record of third-party funding acquired, as well as proof of teaching experience by 20.10.2023 at the latest.
